LOGAN COUNTY HISTORICAL

Spring 2017 , Volume III, Issue II

Greetings Members,

I am pleased to announce the Logan County Historical Society has recently entered into a partnership with the Frontier Country Museum in Crescent for programming and office space. As part of this partnership I will be at the Frontier Country Museum on Wednesdays from 10am-4pm and Saturdays for events and programming. We are all excited about the possibilities of this partnership and hope you will support our efforts. As part of our agreement all of our members will be entitled to free admission to the Frontier Country Museum and a 10% discount in the museum gift store. If you haven't visited the Frontier Country Museum, now is a great chance. If you have, come back for our new programming premiering this summer.

Happy Exploring!

Foucart Awards

Patti Lynn Diner

The Patti Lynn Grill (Flo's Diner) was once destined for the scrap pile, but today looks like it once appeared in the 1950s, thanks to the efforts of Jerry Jones. The Patti Lynn sat at 113 N. Wentz in Guthrie from 1952 – 1978. It was originally owned by Charles Jones, who named the diner after his daughter. The Patti Lynn is a Valentine Diner, which boomed in popularity after WWII. Valentine diners can be identified by their signature wall safes and serial plates. There are still a number of these diners in Oklahoma, but few are still in use. Jerry's dinner is used for family functions.

J. W. Furrow House

The Furrow House was built in 1947 for the J. W. Furrow family of Furrow's Greenhouses. It was recently purchased by Darrell and Paula Burnett who had a total renovation completed on the property, bringing it back to its original glory. During the renovation an original mural was rediscovered in the butler pantry and bead board found in the attic was used to restore the sun porch ceiling.

The Frontier Country Museum was founded and is maintained by a dedicated group of volunteers. In order to offer new programming and events, new volunteers are needed. Many opportunities are only 2-4 hour time commitments. Contact us, if you can help 405-215-9700.

We are still receiving feedback from our WPA tour series. This week, I received two tips of two possible WPA bridges, which are no longer in use, but can still be found in the woods off of May Ave. in Logan County.
